The companies will be uniformed, armed, and equipped at the camps of rendezvous as soon as organized, and sent to such stations as may be designated by the Provost Marshal General.

The latest diplomatic aspect of the Polish question is stated by the well informed Paris correspondent of the New York Times as follows: "England has proposed an armistice which has been accepted by France, and thus far refused by Austria. But even if Austria adheres to it, the two parties mostly concerned-Russia and Poland-will refuse it, and then what? Shall we have a European war or not? In the meantime the insurrection is perhaps more than maintaining itselfit is extending daily over more ground, and the Poles at Paris are absolutely certain that it will yet extend further. The Melilotus, planted in drills twelve inches apart, in May, comes above ground in twelve or fifteen days, grows luxuriantly, yielding an enormous crop from one planting for several years. This plant may be cropped at the stage of growth when it is found to yield a fibre most suitable for the fabric or purpose required. It grows to the height of from four to six feet. For paper stock the Melilotus may be cut, dried like hay, and converted into rulp immediately from the field—the fibre and The Melilotus, planted in drills twelve inches pulp immediately from the field—the fibre and wood or stalk being together available for wood or stalk being together available for the different varieties of paper. A peculiarity—and a valuable one—of this plant is, that it may remain in the field all winter, the air, snow, frost, and rain, rotting it effectually without injury to the fibre. In the flower garden the Melilotus is already well known and appreciated for its delicate flower and agreeable and lasting perfume.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal. NEAR VICKSBURG, MISS., May 29, 1863. Last night the pickets on our right (10th livision 13th army corps) were considerably exercised for about twenty minutes, the enemy having boldly come out to feel the Yankees and get a little fresh air. Instead they got several doses of lead pills, and got sent back in a hurry. Aside from this little milling excursion nothing of interest occurred during the night. At seven o'clock this morning it seemed that a thousand thunder storms had broken forth simultaneously, save that it did not rain—anything but shot and shell. Great God! how our guns rained missiles of death Hills. Five discharges to the second! eighteen thousand per hour! raining down vengeance upon a rebellious people. How vividly the closing scenes of Sodom and Gomorrah came Jehovah, then—perhaps (?) it is from Him now, through his people. Grant—that it is so, the survivors (if any) will never be able to erase from memory's tablet the severe scourging of the morning of May 29, 1863. Our guns were, the most of them, elevated the opinion of several military men, that very few of the enemy remain in their forts, but in the rear, partly under cover of the hill or ridge, and doubtless in artificial caverns, their lookouts report any unusual movement on our part, and should an assault be made, it is a very easy and simple thing to garrison any point attacked. This view of the case looks plausible.

Have not been able to glean any further information from Gen Joe Johnston's army, not even its probable whereabouts. By late Northern papers I learn that 20,000 men have been letached from Bragg's army. It is not known whether this detachment is for the Mississippi army or for East Tennessee. From all that has been gleaned from deserters and prisoners is highly probable that the said troops are on It is certain that Gen. Grant has sent for re-nforcements, which if duly responded to will arrive soon. Cannot be more explicit at this Now let us suppose that Bragg sends 20,000 p join Joe Johnston, who is believed to have 5,000, we then will have 35,000 men in our ar! Again—suppose our reinforcements nount to about the same number, a battle must inevitably be fought at or near Big Black. Should this take place can either army at this point assist so as to turn the tide of bat-tle there, and how will it affect decisive results in regard to the possession of Vicksburg? This is a mere survey of possibilities, admitting of a possibility in regard to a side battle being fought near Big Black.

CADEZ ORION.

spondence of the Louisville Journal.] MURFREESBORO, TENN., June 3, 1863. The feature of the week thus far is the REVIEW OF GEN. ROUSSEAU'S DIVISION, hich took place on Monday last, just outside in picket lines in a beautiful meadow. The mouncement that the division of Gen. Rous-

Major Generals Stanley, McCook, and Negey, with their staffs, accompanied by a legion of gilt-edged officers of every conceivable rank, conored and added to the importance of the casion. The cavalcade of handsomely uni-med officials, mounted on superbly capar-ned horses, galloped up and down the lines, specting the appearance of the troops, and turned to a knoll that overlooked the whole force.

The column then, marching in splendid style with bands playing and banners flying, passed the officers in review. The imposing brilliancy of the display cannot be appreciated from description. It was a clear, bright day, and the burnished bayonets, flashing back the rays of an ardent sun, fairly sparkled with effugence.

The county was slightly spling and as the The ground was slightly rolling, and as the column rose and fell with the undulations of the field, the long line of glittering steel seemed successive waves of light, brilliant at the crest, but in the triangle mellowed to a bashful shimmer. The torn and tattered banners that fluttered above the several regbanners that fluttered above the several regiments seemed to borrow from the glitter of the arms a lustre that illumined the victories emblazoned on their folds. The eyes of the weather-beaten soldiers, in whose firm and measured tread I fancied I heard an earnest of their dauntless courage, flashed with an honest, soldierly pride, as they heard from the lookers on a compliment to their appearance. nonest, soldierly pride, as they neard from the lookers-on a compliment to their appearance. The artillery, led by the intrepid Col. Loomis, whose gallant exploits have rendered him famous in history, brought up the rear. Every one of these excellent batteries—Battery H, 5th U. S. Artillery; the original Loomis' Battery, and Bush's Kentucky Battery—have performed signal service in the bloodiest battles of the war. As I reverted to the story of tles of the war. As I reverted to the story of slaughter these guns have caused in the enemy's ranks, I could not but fancy that the low, dull, sepulchral rattle of the wheels were portentous mutterings from the tomb. The tramp of men and horses, and the roll of the artillery wagons, fairly jarred the earth on which we stood. The compliments paid the troops (and I heard not a few of them) were justly bestowed, and must have been encouraging to the General, whose countenance was radiant with the satisfaction elicited by the splendid appearance of the men.

In all this, I saw the "pomp and circumstance of glorious war." But in the ragged, haggard, half-starved children that timidly peeped from the broken window-pane, in the igh mud-chinked cabin by the way side; in e debris of a splendid mansion, charred and ackened by the flames; in the open untilled fields overgrown with weeds, but once wav-ing with the fruits of agriculture; in unen-closed orchards with barked and dismantled trees; in the grass that was growing in roads and once free ented paths; I saw and recognized the and miseries, the destruction, and devastation that follow in its footsteps.

FEMALE SPIES. In a country where so much respect is shown the opposite sex, and the conventional courte-sies of society toward women so sacredly oberved, a woman engaged in secret corres-ondence with the enemy in time of war is within our lines the most dangerous spy that could be employed against us. She comes professedly a refugee from the discomforts and inconveniences that we know are suffered by citizens without the protection of the Federal armies, and signifies a desire to reside with some friend or relative within our lines. Her fory is all probable and plausible. She ensts the sympathies and confidence of the autorities, who, in the laudable desire to extend to her the privileges of a citizen, flying from the trials and grievances that afflict those in rebellion, and seeking under the protection of the old flag the quiet and enjoyment of life, shielded by the beneficent laws of a well regu-ing the confidence reposed in her, and violating the oath of loyalty she has taken, she no sooner collects a fund of valuable inand probable designs, than she communicates tried by a Military Commission in this place She is a remarkably handsome woman, not over twenty years of age, and possessing a most elegant contour. She has fascinating nfluence on the listener. If I am correctly nformed, a certain officer not far from the Provost Marshal's office would profit by revertwarriors than he. There are sirens in these days, who are charged with winning wiles— let Wiles beware.

THE SITUATION OF THE ARMY. With the exception of a few new dispositions almost the same as when last I wrote you ter be known to the country by permission of the authorities, only, when the object of the movement shall have been accomplished, or roven a failure.

THE DUTIES OF CORRESPONDENTS. When performed with a proper regard for the interests of the service, will not be interfered with. But to avoid the pernicious influences that the indiscreet publication of con-templated movements has heretofore exerted, correspondents to operate, any deviation from which will result in the exit of the offender from dents have been prejudicial to the interests of the army, and hence the restrictions, if not warped by partiality, will conserve a good purpose, and receive the hearty co-operation of all interested. THE ENHMY Has withdrawn all his mounted forces on ou left and in our rear, and even abandoned Mc-Minville, a point from which an immense from the prosperous country around to subsist the army at Tullahoma, with which point the former place communicates by rail. A gentleman, whose statements have gained rom Tullahoma, which place he represents as defended by but two regiments of infantry. He says that Bragg has called forward all his available forces, which are now disposed on our front, about Shelbyville, Beech Grove, and other places in proximity to our lines.

BRAGG'S OBJECT In menacing us with his entire army may be to create the impression that he contemplates attacking us, and in this way induce Rose-crans to hug the fortifications here until the einforcements he has sent to Johnston shall im in the rear, or in compelling the raising That he intends any aggressive movement, depleted as his army has undoubtedly been of late by the departure southward of such heavy forces, is without the bounds of plausibility. The occasional attacks that are being made by small bodies of cavalry on our vedettes are only feigned exhibitions of a coming attack and designed only to mislead us as to the real motives of the advance.

THE RESULT OF A MOVEMENT BY GEN. ROSECRANS which is contingent as I still believe on news a portion of Bragg's forces in the vicinity of Shelbyville, followed by a retreat of the ene-my on his defences at Tullahoma. Here, even with a largely depleted army, Bragg could keep open a line of retreat across the Tennes see, and at the same time, with inferior loss t

THE INJURY TO THE ENEMY. Resulting from such a movement, consists principally in the demoralizing effect it would produce among the Tennessee troops already langerously disaffected, and most thoroughl verse to leaving the soil of their own State The crops of Middle Tennessee, never more dourishing nor promising a more abundant yield than now, to which the enemy's eyes have been so anxiously turned, would be gar-hered by the Federals, and the way to the posession of East Tennessee by the Federals would

WOOL TRADE.—Among the changes which the war and the consequent dearth of cotton have produced in our domestic industry, we observe a great and lucrative development of the wool trade. For not only do more than a million of men in the service of the government wear nothing but woollen, but in the community generally light fabrics of wool are more in demand than ever before. Hence we find that our imports of wool from England have increased from 2,841,200 pounds in 1860 to 10,039,947 pounds in 1861, and in 1862 to 11,623,226 pounds. At the port of New York the imports of wool, December 29, 1862, to April, 1863, were 15,740,574 pounds, and for the month ending May 25, 1863, 5,455,072 pounds. The total imports for the five months

The following real estate transfers were made in the city of Louisville and county of Jefferson on the 8th instant:

The sale of the property of Edward Crutchfield was postponed until the 22d June, on account of a mistake made by the printer in the description of a part of the property.

RUN OVER .- A little child, three or four years old, was run over at noon yesterday, at the St. Cloud Hotel, corner of Second and Jefferson streets, by a horse and buggy. The child was in the street, and was not discovered until too late to prevent the sad accident. Fortunately it was not much hurt, though in imminent danger of being crushed by the horse's feet and the wheels of the vehicle.

Correction .- The shooting affair noticed in yesterday's paper was not serious in its results. Five shots were fired at the man, only one of which touched him, and that on the tip of the ear. The Provost Guard had nothing to do with the shooting or the arrest. Secret police did the shooting and arresting.

DAYTON RIOTERS .- The last of the Dayton rioters have been released from the Cincinnati military prison. Their names are Wm. T. Logan, publisher of the late Dayton Empire charged with inciting riot; Wm. Womble, riot, and cutting telegraph poles; Peter Eicher and Phillip Farrel, riot. After a preliminary examination they were discharged on taking the oath of allegiance. Their conduct in prison was commendable, and they were rejoiced to be at liberty once more.

New Postage Law .- The act passed by the last United States Congress fixes the rate of postage on newspapers as follows:

Weekly Weight not to exceed four ounces. The new rates take effect July 1, 1863.

INDIANA EPISCOPAL CONVENTION .- The Terre Haute Democrat says the Convention of the Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Indiana, adjourned on Thursday, after a pleasant session of two days. The business of the Convention being confined exclusively to the subsion for no protracted debate and allowed time for ample religious exercises.

The election in that portion of Virginia now under Confederate rule, held last week, was very close, and it is doubtful whether Mr. bers of the next rebel Congress

(Special Despatch to the Louisville Journal.) CINCINNATI, June 9. The Gazette's Washington correspondence says Surgeon Hewitt, of Grant's staff, and 250 privates belonging to regiments in Grant's army, who were captured at Jackson and Raymond, have been released. Mr. Cooper, the Captain's clerk of the Indianola, is retained as a hostage. Dr. Hewitt reports that A. D. Richardson and Junius Brown, Tribune correspondents, are still in Libby prison. Dr. Hewitt gives it as a decided opinion, lerived from facts which came to his knowledge in the course of his journey from Jackson to Richmond, that General Grant will surely take Vicksburg, and that the rebels await further operations of our forces.

cenversant with affairs at Port Hudson and in the Department of the Gulf, who arrived here last night from New Orleans, we learn some inlast night from New Orleans, we learn some in-teresting facts of the situation of Banks's army and its prospects. Our informant left Port Hudson late in the evening on Sunday the 31st ult. There had been no fighting of sonse-quence since the assault of the 27th, but Gen. Banks had been industriously and rapidly contracting his lines and approaching the rebel works. The wings of our army rested on or very near the Mississippi, both above and below, and there was no possibility of reand below, and there was no possibility of re-inforcements reaching the beleaguered garri-

Banks had made up his mind to take the place, and he had men and means to do it. The contest of the 27th was very desperate and very bloody; the rebels fighting with most reckless courage, and our men being not a whit behind in daring and pluck. Our informant corroborates the good accounts here-

These sable warriors provoked most frenzied and forthwith hung him—a piece of bloody instruction on the hung hung and the rebels bent all their energy to their annihilation, and, since the fight, they have missed no chance to kill negro pickets. In one instance they pounced upon a single black sentry, captured, and forthwith hung him—a piece of bloody instruction on ich limotropy and upon for almost instruction quickly improved upon, for, almost within an hour, some negroes got hold of a rebel picket, and swung him up in full sight of their murdered companion.

The position taken by Howe's division on the south bank taken by Howe's division on the south bank of the Rappahannock on Friday evening is still peacefully held. The only hostile demonstration during the past 24 hours has been an occasional shell from one 4½-inch Rodman stationed on the hills on this side. Our skirmishers held the line of Deep Run and Bowling Green road, while the enemy are in plain sight about a quarter of a mile further on in palarce hodies.

Their troops are in sight about one mile directly in front of our position, and on the crest of a hill is a battery in sight, but this is all we can see. There is abundant evidence, hovever, that the enemy is closely watching our move-ments, evidently hoping that we may continue our advance and meet him on his chosen ground. I can say that this depends altogether pon circumstances. Our troops lie on their trms in an open plain covered by several bat-eries of those fierce brass Napoleons. They

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE.—At Nicholasville.

Ky., the Southern terminus of the Kentucky Central Railroad, on Saturday, about noon, the boiler of the locomotive Kenton exploded, instantly killing three men and wounding twelve others-two of whom have since died. Among the killed is a young man named Casper Breidenburg, of Covington, who was a Government teamster. All the others were members of a Massachusetts regiment, the 51st, we believe. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The engineer, Mr. Frank Lockwood, of Lexington, was at dinner when it occurred. The engine was standing on the track near the telegraph office, attached to a passenger train, which was to have left in a short time for Covington. The conductor of the train, Mr. Jas. Taylor, and the fireman, Geo. Stoller, both of Coving ton, had got off the locomotive but a few moments before the explosion took place. A sufficient quantity of water was said to have been in the boiler, and the amount of steam did not exceed one hundred and thirty pounds, which we are informed was not above an average for the locomotive. The report of the explosion was terrific. The engine was thrown fully fifty feet from the track and completely

B. Blackmer, mortally wounded, and Sergeant W. O. Florence, slightly wounded. A colored man, who worked about the depot, was also killed, making the total number killed six. The court was in session at the time, with Judge James Stewart on the bench, but it is a mistake that he or any of the county officers were paroled. Their object seemed to be to plunder and rob, which they did pretty extensively. About forty of the John Morgan Morgan's guerillas constituted the band, but under whose leadership it was not known. The most of them were well known in the neighborhood of Hodgensville, being from Nelson county, Ky. They stole horses, and every article of clothing and apparel they could find-and took from Mr. Gibbons, a mail contractor, upwards of one handred dollars in cash. They went to the postoffice with the avowed intention of robbing it, but as there was no money or stamps in the hands of the postmaster they got nothing there. They took away with them the horses belonging mostly to Southern rights men. They evidently cared not who the property belonged to, but took all they could steal from whoever chanced to have it. Their presence was extremely disagreeable to everybody in the town except a few secession sympathizing ladies, who manifested a deal of pleasure when they appeared, and seemed loth to part with them when they left, which they did in &

FOR CONGRESS, ROBERT MALLORY,

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1863. Gen. Grant has been largely reinforced and additional troops are still being hurried to his assistance. The movements of troops through our city for the past ten days, both by land and water, have been very active. In accerdance with a rule of conduct long since adonted, we have taken no notice of these transfers in the Journal, but as they are fully detailed in the Eastern papers there can be no longer any use in withholding the gratifying intelligence that Gen. Grant will be fully able to cope with the rebel force which may be brought against the rear of his army investing Vicksburg. The strengthening of the army of the Mississippi has not weakened in any degree the defences of Kentucky, for, though many of the old regiments have been taken away from our State, their places have been fully supplied by other troops. ELECTIONS TO THE LEGISLATURE.—It is ex- be treated as one who would introduce discord ceedingly desirable that there be the greatest possible harmony of sentiment and feeling among the Union members of the next Legis. lature of this State. The want of perfect harmony among the loyal members of the last Legislature was a matter of regret, and there mitted to trouble and embarrass us again. To be sure, the trouble and embarrassment were not much, but they were more than we want or need have next winter.

Fortunately we have a sure basis upon which the necessary unity can be established. That basis is the resolutions of the late Union Convention in this city. Those resolutions express the opinions and wishes of the true Union men of Kentucky. They are cordially supported by all the true Union presses of the State. They are of course opposed by such pretended friends of the Union as are inclined to radicalism or abolitionism and such other pretended Union men as are leagued with the

Then let every Union candidat e, as a condition of our party's support, be required to stand upon them fairly and squarely. They it is not larger, however, than we should exinvolve no questions in regard to which there pect, and it falls below what I supposed we involve no questions in regard to which there calling themselves Union men, are not opposed to the President's emancipation proclamation If there are any such, and if they would in good faith serve the Union cause, let them, for direct issue, upon that matter, with the Union party of Kentucky. There is no emancipation proclamation party in this State, and one can't be created. There is no party here that goes for the proclamation as either a political or a military measure. The body of our population believe that it is injurious to the nation in its military operation, and, if possible, still more injurious to it politically. No wellinformed man doubts that it has helped to divide the people of the North, who, before it was announced as forthcoming, were as a unit but are now separated into parties, and no one can entertain a rational doubt that it has destroyed or rather stifled every Union feeling in the South, inflaming the population of that section to the point of frenzy and desperation. Besides, the permanent execution of the measure would involve the overthrow of our system of government and the extinction of the nation. Every voice raised in favor of the proclamation in Kentucky is a voice tending to the promotion of the rebel to the senseless clamor for disregarding the cause. Let no such voice be raised in our engineer's art. Hooker could see no obstacle next Legislature. Let no owner of such a at any time to marching into Richmond while clares that the power which has recently been assumed by the President of the United States, whereby, under the guise of military necessity, he has proclaimed and extended martial law over the States where war does not exist, and has suspended the writ of habeas corpus, is un-warranted by the constitution, and its tendency is to subordinate civil to military authority. and to subvert constitutional and free govern-

The resolution is just and proper, and most unquestionably expresses the sentiment of Kentucky. The President suspended the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, in numerous cases, before Congress had authorized him to suspend it, and suspended it, moreover, on the express assumption that he had the constitutional right to do so, an assumption that flies in the face of the whole current of our history is more honored by the nation in his retireand of the history of civil liberty itself. Congress has since given him the authority, and thereby has affirmed by clear implication the justness of the doctrine asserted on this point in the resolution under notice. Indeed, the majority of the President's political friends in dred abolition Editors and orators could not be Congress frankly repudiated the assumption in question. It really finds almost as little countenance in the public mind of the country as it finds in reason and in law. It is a mere freak of doctrine, born of the passion and extravagance of the hour, and destined to pass away with them. As to the other point of the resolution, the condemnation of the extension of "martial law over States where war does not exist," we own we do not see how there can be any difference of opinion amongst the free citizens of this free Republic. What is martial law? The will of a military chief. Such is the definition given by the publicists. When, therefore, the President extended martial law over the States of the North, as he did in his proclamation of the 24th of last September, he in theory abolished the constitution, and proclaimed his own will as the supreme law of the land,—the supreme law in New York and sent to us. It is too silly and absurd a thing in New Hampshire, where peace and order | to get angry at. Upon this point surely all genuine Union men, all the honest friends of the country can be agreed.

We want no men sent to the Legislature to make a factious or indiscriminate opposition to the Administration. We have thus indicated the ground and the only ground upon which there can be unity of feeling and action among the loyal men upon whom will devolve the momentous duty of legislating for Kentucky in this mighty crisis of her affairs and the affairs of the nation. They are, as they must know, at months that any French or English commander dreamed of making an assault. None but a madman would have attempted it.

Why, then, are our soldiers dashed by regiments and brigades against fortifications upon which the engineer's art has been exhausted during a year's incessant labor? Why are thousands of our sons and brothers sacrificed in efforts that have not a ghost of a chance to succeed?

The answer is obvious. The satanic press of the Northern fanatics have raised such fearful howls about the ears of every commanding General, who has followed the plain dictates of common sense, as well as the established maxims of the art of war, that Burnside and Grant and Banks have been, as it were, compelled to sacrifice thousands of lives to this infernal Moloch, that, at a safe distance

Office Louisville Water Co., Louisville, Ky., June 4, 1863. IT HAS COME TO THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE Board that persons taking water for their own use have furnished their neighbors; others, having paid for street sprinklers to sprinkle one-half of the street in front of their premises, sprinkle the entire street as far as their hose will reach on either side of it; others, again, who have paid only for street sprinklers, use the water from them to fill their cisterns or supply their heuses. The extent of these abuses is such it is deemed proper to remind all persons using water that they must comply with the rules of the company, and that a violation of them will involve the necessity of turning off the water without further notice. Persons wishing to use more water than they have contracted for can have it on application and payment for same.

COMPOUND CEDRON BITTERS. The Latest and Most Important Discovery of the 19th Century. No Man's name is more favorably benown as a pioneer in medical discovery, than that of Dr. John Bella, of Louisville, Ky. His inimitable preparation of Sarss parilla, has long stood at the head of the various compounds of that valuable crug. His Compound Pectoral of Wild Cherry has become a household word throughout the West and South, and his Worm Lozenges, in less than a year after their introduction, attained a reputation as widespread as the continent of North America. But the crowning glory of his Hie remains to be attained in his latest discovery, or rather combination, for he does not claim to have been the discoveror of CEDRON, which is the basis of the bitters now offered to the public. That honor belongs to the native inhabitants of Central America, to whom its virtues have been known for more than two hundred years. Armed with it the Indian bids defiance to the most deadly malaria, and handles without fear the most venous serpents. It is a belief with them that while there is breath left in the body the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

body the Cedron is potent to cure, no matter what the disease may be.

While Dr. Bull is not prepared to endorse this extravagant pretension, he is nevertheless satisfied from a thorough examination of the evidence relating to its virtues, that, as a remedy and preventire fer all diseases arising from exposure, either to changes of weather and climate, or to the miasmatic influences, it stands without a rival, and justly deserves the reputation it has so long enjoyed in Central America and the West Indies. In DYSPEPSIA. And its attendant train of symptoms, it acts more lik a charm than a medicine. There is nothing in the whole range of the Materia Medica that can for a me whole range of the Materia Medica that can for a moment bear a comparison with it in this disease.

A full account of this wonderful plant may be found in the 11th edition of the U. S. Dispensatory, pages 1387 and 1388.

A series of experiments, in whick Dr. Bull has been for years engaged, has just been brought to a successful termination, and he is now enabled to offer to the public a climbination of Cedron with other approved tonics, the whole preserved in the best quality of copper-distilled Bourton whisky, which he is confident has no equal in the world.

He might furnish a volume of certificates, but the public have long since learned to estimate such things at their true value. The safest plan is, for every one to test for himself the virtues of a new medicine. Give KENTUCKY HARVESTER Improved for 1863.

THE ONLY PERFECT COMBINED MACHINE IN USE, Having Two Distinct Motions.

A Slow Motion to the Sickle in Reaping, A Fast Motion to the Knife in Mowing. DY THIS IMPROVEMENT WE ENTIBELY avoid the great difficuly heretofore found in all Combined Machines having but one speed, which is too rapid for reaping and too slow for mowing, causing unnecessary wear and tear of the Machine in reaping as well as increased draft.

The cutting apparatus of the Harvester has been so changed and improved for 1863 that we will warrant it to move where any other machine ever did. or can more.

We have also placed a Spring Seat on our Machine for the driver, which gives him greater command over his team and machine, as well as perfect ease, security, and comfort in driving. These improvements make this Machine the very perfection of a combination, doing perfectly the work of two Machines.

Price, including Doubletree, Neckyoke, &c., Complete, $150 Cash.

THE

Cuts a Swath Seven Feet Wide.

This Machine is only intended for Reaping, and was introduced by us in 1850, and is a complete success.

It is designed for the use of very large grain growers, and is capable of cutting from 20 to 25 acres of any kind of grain per day with easy.

Price at Louisville - - $120 Cash.

A 2-WHEEL IRON MOWER. The KENTUCKY CLIPPER, as arranged, strengthened, and improved, for 1863, presents the most complete simple, durable, and compact Mowing Machine ever invented, and we will warrant its Mowing qualities equal to those of any other Machine in use.

Among the points of excellence in this machine may be enumerated:

First—It has two independent driving wheels, both drivers (yet with but one set of gear). The wheels are each coupled to the shaft is a pawl and ratchet, so that in backing the machine is always out of gear, yet when moving forwardmay be thrown in or out of gear at pleasure.

Second—The cutter-bar is jointed, or hinged, so as to readily adjust itself to uneven surfaces, and is easily raised by means of a lever, to pass over obstructions. It may also be raise and folded over in rear of the frame. It is made o the best cast-steel, but rigid and strong.

Third—The entire machine, with the exception of the tongue, is made of ironand steel, yet very light, weighing less than 600 pounds. Width of swath, lour eet three inches.

Price at the Factory - - $100 Cash

timothy. The ground was very rough, and consequently neither machine could cut very close; but there was a vast difference between the cut of the Buckeye and the cut of the Clipper. The Clipper work was at least twenty-five per cent the best. The Buckeye can cut a little more than the Clipper, for two reasons, viz: It cuts a little wider (but very little), and the team is compelled to walk faster to make it cut at all; but while I was in the field with the Clipper, for the Buckeye was retained for repairs, and this is the great difficulty with the Buckeye rit is so constructed that it must shatter to pieces in two seasons. I am perfectly satisfied I would rather have the Clipper at the same price. I do not think that the draft of the Clipper is much more than half that of the Buckeye.

Respectfully, yours,

JAMES C. BASCOM.

Mr. Yeaman has fully vindicated his title to the confidence and admiration of his constituents. He stands in the front rank of the statesmen and patriots of the Commonwealth.

ESCAPE FROM DIXIE. - Last September Mr. J. W. Alley, a stalwart young patriot of Giles county, Tenn., left that county for Nashville, knowing, that, after the retreat of Gen. Buell, he would no longer be safe at home. On the 5th of last month, happening to be out on business upon the Franklin road about four five miles from Nashville, he was captured by a small band of guerillas and taken to Columbia. At that place he was kept in prison seventeen days, buying his meals and paying a dollar apiece for them. At the end of that time the Seventeenth Mississippi started with him for Columbus in their own State. On the way a few of the soldiers, say nine or ten, determined to leave their regiment without perhad no objection, and all took their opportunity and started off together. Pretty soon afterwards he took his particular opportunity and deserted the deserters. First he struck for Corinth, which was the most accessible point within the Federal lines. Thence he went to Memphis, took a boat, and arrived here yesorday on his way back to Nashville with a

JUVENILE OLD FOLKS' CONCERT .- Prof. Whipple's entertainment at the Masonic Temple to-morrow evening will be one of the most attractive concerts ever given in our city. The members of his juvenile classes will be dressed in the antique costumes of bygone days, and appear in a programme, which is as full of melody as a cage of Canary birds, and the pretty little warblers will doubtless execute the parts assigned to them with grace

The Rev. Geo. S. Savage, Principal of e Female Seminary at Millersburg, in this ate, has sent us five dollars to aid in the reief of the sufferers in the Vicksburg battles. Mr. Savage has been exceedingly liberal in his contributions for such purposes ever since the commencement of the war. We sincerely rejoice that the prosperity of his most excel lent school enables him thus to gratify the feelings of his benevolent and patriotic heart.

We are asked to republish the bill for enrolling and organizing the national militia, popularly known as the Conscription Law. We have already published it, and it is entirely too long for us to think of setting it in type again. Pamphlet editions have been issued, we believe, and if so, they can be obtained at our bookstores for a mere trifle.

WARD MEETINGS .- The Union voters of the Seventh, Eighth, and Ninth Wards, and Portland will meet at the Relief and Rescue Engine-houses, Avery's plow-factory, and Newhall's saloon, respectively, this evening at eight o'clock, to elect delegates to a convention to nominate a candidate for the Legislature om that district.

James Glasgo, a free man of color in employ of Mr. N. W. Hughes, coal dealer und the purse to which we alluded vesterday and informed Mr. Charles Brewster of the fact as soon as he reached home. James acted very honestly in the matter and he has been handsomely rewarded for his conduct.

CONFISCATED .- A lot of liquors belonging to Jacob Ott, corner of Marshall and Preston confiscated yesterday by order of Marc Mundy, and Mr. Ott was sent e Military Prison, where he will be confined for the present until the matter is fully investigated.

EXCHANGE PRISONERS.—The Shenango as rived from Cincinnati yesterday with a full trip of exchange prisoners, on their way to join their several regiments. ARRIVED .- Twenty-three rebel prisoners arrived on the Nashville train last night and will be sent North immediately.

WOODLAWN RACES-Second Day .- The atendance at Woodlawn yesterday, the second day of the races, was decidedly better than on the first day. Many ladies were present to lend additional interest to the occasion, their bright faces wreathed in smiles of pleased attention. Milton's Mountain Jack and Shockency's Billy, the latter the favorite, were the entries for the first race. Mountain Jack had the track from the start for a short distance, but was soon passed and distanced by Billy, who won the first heat in 2:40. Betting was now five to one on Billy. The second heat was won by Mountain Jack in 2:491/2. The third heat was also won by Mountain Jack in 2:38. The fourth heat Billy won in 2:38. The fifth and last heat Billy won in 2:38%.

An Artist's Studio.—The casualties of war have brought to our city Mr. J. W. Wood. an artist, from Nashville, who has his studio in the second story of the southeast corner of Market and Third streets, over Winter's. He has perfected his study of art in Europe, and brought with him many copies of the old masters from the Louvre, the British Gallery, and the Italian Collections, as well as many original pictures which derived their inspiration from scenes or characters in the old obtains very successful likenesses, and his flesh tints are excellent. His compositions exhibit much artistic taste, and his coloring is street. exceedingly natural. He has portraits of a male and female chiffonnier, drawn from life in Paris, which are very fine pictures, and a groupe of Italian peasants listening to the recital of war news from the North is very effective. A visit to Mr. Wood's room will afford pleasure to every lover of art, and it will be found that we have among us an artist of great capacity, who has around him some gems which will bear repeated examinations. A copy of one of Rosa Bonheur's celebrated

The New Albany Ledger learns that Lieut. Col. Johnson, of the Sixty-fifth Indiana mounted infantry, arrived at Henderson on ast Friday, from a chase of a gang of guerillas who had been busy near Madisonville. His command succeeded in capturing twelve of the rebels, but the remainder managed to "skedaddle." While on the hunt, Lieut.-Col. J. issued an order to his men to press into service for one day all male citizens between the age of eighteen and forty-five, for the purpose of making a thorough drive through the region infested by the guerillas. In a short time he had a force of five hundred mounted Kentuckians, with whom he scoured the counmission in order to visit their homes, and try. Col. J. says his "boys" have learned all spoke of the matter in his presence. He asked the roads and by-paths, and know also just to be allowed to go with them, saying that he | where to obtain guides in that section, so that had relatives near where they lived. They hereafter these irresponsible gangs of rebel emissaries will stand a slim show of escape.

A REBEL MAIL AND PRISONERS CAPTURED .-On Thursday at noon as Captain Hutchins, of the Second Illinois Regiment, was on his way from Columbus, Kv., to Covington, Tenn., he came up with and captured, near the latter place, a rebel mail carrier, who had with him a large number of letters. Captain Hutchins ascertained by letters in the mail, that, at no great distance to the right of the road, the rebel Colonel Faulkner was lying with three hundred men. Captain Hutchins started to find his camp, and succeeded in capturing four of his men after a slight skirmish.

The Bath, Maine, papers say that considerable excitement exists in that city, with regard to the abduction or elopement of a young lady of that place with a member of the company known as Wood's Minstrels. Pursuit has been made, but the result is not known. The young woman is about seventeen years of age, of a most respectable family, and would not have been expected to commit such a folly. We learn that the parties have come toward the West, and that the | 516 Main street, (up stairs), between Fifth and family are painfully anxious to hear from her.

Capt. B. J. Spalding is recruiting for the 37th Kentucky (it will probably be mounted infantry), and, although the portion of the State in which he is recruiting has furnished a large number of soldiers, his prospects for accomplishing his purposes are very encouraging. Capt. B. is an ardent Union man, and has worked hard for the good cause ever since the rebellion broke out. His Headquarters are at Lebanon. As soon as men are enrolled with him, they will be supplied with all necessaries.

A detachment of the Hundred-andfifteenth Ohio regiment, under the command of Lieut. S. Nash, arrested two citizens of Boone county, Ky., named Cyrus Cowen and Henry Jarrell, near Burlington, on Saturday, and brought them to Cincinnati, where they are now confined in the Military Prison. [Special Despatch to the Louisville Journal.] MURFREESBORO, June 9. Two rebel officers dressed in United States from Sulphur Springs. uniforms appeared in Franklin yesterday with orders from the War Department, approved by General Rosecrans, directing them to visit the post at Franklin, examine the fortifications, inspect the ordnance, and report the condition of the same and the competency of the garrison to withstand an attack. Their manner and conversation excited suspicion, and a telegram from General Rosecians denying that any such officers had been ordered to inspect, induced their arrest. One was, some time since, Chief of Artillery on General Bragg's staff, and now holds a prominent position in the Confederate army. His name is I replied at once that they were probably Lawrence Orton Williams, and is a son of an ard direct old army officer of that name, who belonged to the regular army, and was killed at Cerro Gordo. After entering the rebel service he

NASHVILLE, June 9. Two spies suffered death by hanging at Franklin to-day. One Colonel Williams, formerly of the Fifth U. S. Regulars, and Lieut. Peterson arrived at Franklin on the evening of the 8th representing themselves as inspect-ors sent by General Rosecrans. Both wore Federal uniforms. They advised Colone Beard, commanding post, to discard the guns now upon the fort and obtain new ones. Williams borrowed funds of the Commandant to

Col. Baird, in the meantime, telegraphed to Gen. Rosecrans for authority for their visit. The answer returned was to hang them as spies, as no inspectors had been sent to him. Both having obtained the countersign, had both having, obtained the countersign, had passed the lines. A force of cavalry brought them back. They were hung at 9-30 A. M. to-day. Cavalry and infantry formed a square round the tree. The prisoners were brought in between two platoons of infantry. Just before the handkerchief was placed over their eyes, they embraced each other, and signified that they were ready. The Colonel died hard. Both were buried with the ropes round their

The Tribune's Washington letter says the resident feels perfectly easy about the situa-on of Gen. Grant, and confident that he can einforce more rapidly than the rebels, thus preserving our numerical super ority, and oringing the siege to a successful close. The reported expedition to Shreveport, and the destruction of rebel rams and other property, is discredited as impossible.

The Tribune has letters stating that up to May 31st the siege of Vicksburg was progressing admirably, and famine was beginning to tell upon the foe. The capture or surrender of the place was considered certain and that speedily. Our forces are in fine spirits, and our siege guns within pistol shot of the enemy's works. All apprehensions of an attack on our rear by Johnston are groudless. We hold all the passes from Vicksburg, and have ompletely blockaded them against any pos-

The Hon. Emerson Etheridge, of Tenmessee. Clerk of the last House of Representatives, having been invited, on behalf of a squad of trading abolitionists in Memphis that call themselves the "Washington Union CLUB," to join in a public celebration at Memphis, replies to the impudent request in a very extended letter, the irony of which is terrific, and which concludes as follows:

I look in vain among the names attached to your letter for one which recalls a familiar face. I do not remember that I ever had the honor of a personal acquaintance with any one of you, although, in former times, I knew many of the leading citizens of Memphis, among whom are not a few who are still ardently in favor of a restoration of the Constitution. I regret to find none of them associated with you in the proposed demonstration. But I will indulge no complaints.
Wherever our armies have secured a permanent lodgement in the South—as at Hilton Head, New Orleans, Newbern, Nashville, and Memphis—the Northern friends of our nost excellent President have supplied us bundantly with most disinterested men and women, whose loyal tongues are heard in melodious tones wherever we "hold, occupy, and possess" a cotton or contraband settle-ment in the Confederated wilderness. Look at Hilton Head, where the tender maiden and tougher matron of the North mingle upon sisterly terms with the Palmetto-African ladies of South Carolina. A bountiful issue of tracts and catechisms will no doubt soon be followed by an improved issue of contrabands -not so white as the pure Anglo, not so black as the normal African. In a few years they

Of cloudless climes and starry skies; And all that's best of dark and bright Meet in their aspect and their eyes."

In North Carolina, Charles Henry Foster, Esq., originally from Maine, and a warm political friend of Breckinridge, has organized a Free Labor Association, and Governor Stanley has gone back to California in disgust. In Nashville we have a regularly organized abolition society; its organ is the same as that of the State and Federal government, and the editor, though imported from abroad, is doing more to sustain the glorious administration of President Lincoln than any native-born eitizen of the State can do. This abolition society, and this abolition newspaper, although conducted within the fortifications of the city, is doing no doubt very much to induce the peonal rule of our distinguished Chief Magis-

In Memphis the harvest is a tempting one With cotton at a dollar per pound, and likely contrabands "lying about loose," our enterprising Northern friends who love the Union and wish it preserved under the guar-Union and wish it preserved under the guarantees of the Constitution may make "a good thing of it." Already I hear of several who have farms in Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and other "loyal States," which are now well filled by negroes who once belonged to the Union men of the South. Facts like these will tend greatly to the restoration of peace and harmony, and materially aid in removing the prejudice which the people of the insurrectionary States have entertained against their Northern kindred. They now that the war is not to be so conducted against their Northern kindred. They now know that the war is not to be so conducted as wantonly to deprive them of any portion of their property; and they now have positive proof that Southern secessionists and Northern copperheads, who charged that the war was to be finally waged against the South as a section, instead of the rebels and their allies, are guilty of falsehood. Furthermore, there is a large party at the North who have persistently refused to regard the African as the best representative of the human race. This influx of negroes will do much to change their opinions, and by the same means Southern manners and customs will become gradually introduced north of the Ohio and Potomac, rendering our people much more homogeneous than in former times. Thus we will again become a united and loving people. The lion and the lamb, the contractor and the contraband, will lie down together, and then the millennium will have oome. Excuse the haste with which I write, and accept assurances of my highest regard.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant, EM. HTHERIDGE.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.] CAMP MBAR VICKSBURG, MISS., May 30, 1863.

Last evening at 6 o'clock, our artillery again opened on the city, but with less violence than they did in the morning. The firing elicited no reply whatever. Admiral Porter's mortars are doing the enemy much damage in proper ty, with some loss of life. So say deserters ty, with some loss of life. So say deserters.

This morning a messenger sent through the lines by Gen. Pemberton for the purpose of communicating with Gen. Joe Johnston, suddenly became converted from the error of secession and reported with despatches to Gen. Grant. The substance of the same was this: That if possible to do so, Johnston must attack Grant's army in the rear in heavy force within ten days! If he could not do so with force enough to ensure success, not to attack at all. Pemberton represents his force, able for duty, at 18,000, but a large portion of his army are demoralized and are not to be relied on. I have this direct, and if there should prove to be a flaw in this intelligence, Johnston and the messenger will have put their heads together solely for the purpose of deceiving our Generals. But from other evidences, it is believed to be but the facts. We now have a complete chain of rifle-pits around have a complete chain of rifle-pits around their line of forts, and our batteries are also otected by strong earthworks. The cordon tightening, and, to all human foresight, it is at a question of time as to our occupation of the city, with the whole force of the enemy as prisoners. The capture of supplies and ammunition will probably be light. It is also quite probable that when the enemy conclude to surrender, they will endeavor to make a wreck of everything that would be of advantage to us.

General Sherman on the right pressed the enemy a little to-day, the enemy replying but faintly. I have not learned of any advantage The weather is becoming very comfortable for Mexican costume, viz: shirt-collar and spurs. Our troops are still in excellent health. They labor hard night and day but no one complains. They seem to feel that each one as an interest in the work as well as the principle. This is what constitutes active, intelligent, reliable soldiers. May each one obtain his 160 acres of Uncle Sam's heritage, so gallantly wrought out in this campaign of Liberty and Union.

antly wrought out in this campaign of Liberty and Union.

May 31.—Learned late last night that seven deserters, recently through the lines, stated that our artillery firing promiscuously into the city on the 29th inst. made sad havoc, with the enemy's stock particularly. Hundreds of cattle, mules, and horses were killed, and the night following were hauled down and dumped into the river. People, and property of all kinds, suffered severely. At three o'clock this morning our artillery fire into the city was repeated.

Rebels are getting spunky—don't like to have us looking at them from too lofty a position; therefore to-day at 2 P. M., as our workmen were busily engaged erecting an observatory on the top of a cotton gin (said cotton gin being on the top of a hill), they first mildly expressed their disapprobation by shooting musket balls at our men! This mild treatment not having the desired effect, they sent over a few grape (s) in a canister! Our men think few grape (s) in a canister! Our men thinking a hail storm was deluging them, and not wishing to expose themselves too much in such inclement weather, hastened down to seek shelter from the storm. When nearly down, our friends over there were there compliments with a beautiful shell! Would much like to have seen it arrive safely, but the pretty red thing busted (!) just befors we got it, and we didn't wait to get any more!

Our lookout discovered the location of their. got it, and we didn't wait to get any more!

Our lookout discovered the location of their camp, and accertained some of their positions, by Glibbary W.H. SHERE & OO., Bullbard, by Glibbard, who was a superscript of the control of t but could not yet see into their forts. Report came this evening that half of the 60th Indiana, Col. Owen Burbridge's brigade, was captured at Warrenton. The regiment has been on detached service for more than a month; also the 96th Ohio, Col. Vance. The 96th Ohio left Warrenton yesterday, to report here, which fact the enemy dou tained, and made battle with the 60th Indiana though we have a love at the railroad crossing. CADEZ ORION.

The witnesses in the above cases will take notice and attend court on the day of trial.

TO THE MINISTERS OF THE GOSPEL WHO HAVE AIDED THE REBELLION. I appeal to you who have aided a dissolu-tion of the Union—you who have given your powerful religious influence to the rebellion. You know that we had lived through two generations under the Government of the United States, the most free, most prosperous, most happy, and most religious people on earth. Your fathers had taught you, and you taught your children, that we had the best government ever devised by man. In your progress you often thanked God that our lots were cast in a land where liberty of conscience is protected, so that every one can worship Godin spirit and in truth, and none can make him afraid. Indeed, many of you went fur-ther, and taught the people that our Government was established by the special provi-dence of God. You all prayed for its preservation and the extension of its principles to all nations. Our population had grown from three millions to thirty-one millions. people were universally satisfied with our government; we had no desire to alter or forgovernment; we had no desire to alter or for-sake it; we were at peace with all the world— at peace among ourselves; were developing the resources of our fine country—accumulat-ing all the comforts of life—advancing in the arts, sciences, morals, and religion—the bles-sings of Christianity extended over the whole land—we were indeed a happy and contented

But a few ambitious and bad men cunningly planned the dissolution of the Union which had so much blessed us all. They sent emissaries among us to persuade us to become dissatisfied with the government and destroy it, and to make war upon and go to killing one another. They treated our government, which they knew to be the best workmanship of man, ust as the Jews treated our Saviour Jesus Just as the Jews treated our Saviour Jesus Christ. They tried him, and found no fault in him, yet they cried "Crucify him, crucify him." And they did put him to death. Your corrupt leaders could find no fault in our Constitution; no one had been wronged by it. It blessed us all. Yet they said, Away with it down with it—"it stinks in my nostrils."
Yet the masses of the people still held to the Constitution and the Union. But the corrupt leaders fired the passions of our boys and young men, and put firearms in their hands; then they sent speakers everywhere to persuade the people to go with our boys, and destroy the people to go with our boys, and destroy the Government, and go to killing one another. Our newspapers were crowded with extracts from Greeley, Sumner, Giddings, Lovejoy, Beecher, Phillips, Garrison, and Gerret Smith, and the speakers read these extracts everywhere to the people, and told them that the whole northern population held the same sentiments, and were determined to come by hundreds of thousands to the South and robus of dreds of thousands to the South, and rob us of our property, violate our wives and daughters, our property, violate our wives and daughters, subjugate us, and establish negro equality among us. These few bad men of the North were held up as exponents of the feelings and intentions of the whole northern people. Your leaders all knew this to be a base falsehood, but it had the effect to excite and run our people mad. Many of the ministers of the pure Gospel of Jesus Christ prostituted their high and holy influence to the circulation of these base falsehoods. They influenced the unsuspecting members of their churches, and made them believe it was their religious duty to destroy the Government of the United States, and establish another upon its rains. They prayed for the success of the rebels in arms, and asked God to guide their bullets into the and asked God to guide their bullets into the breasts of the Union soldiers. They taught the innocent and devout men and women of their churches to believe that God was on the side of the rebellion, and that they would serve God by destroying the Union, and murdering our northern friends. Thus by the influence of those wegging religious robes were in the control of the second server of the second server is the second server of the second server is the second server in the second server in the second server is the second server in the second server in the second server is the second server in the second server in the second server is the second server in the second server in the second server is the second server in the second server in the second server is the second second server in the second s the innocent men and women rendered fanatical and furious against the whole northern reople.

If any preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to If any preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ has used his influence as here described, to mislead the members of his flock, I appeal to him in the language of Nathan, "Thou art the man." I ask him now to pause and consider whether he has acted as a good shepherd of his flock. When the base leaders of the rebellion said "lo! here and lo! there," ought you not to have told your flock it to believe it to be the consideration of the constant of there," ought you not to have told your flock "to believe it not, to go not after them?" When one of your flock followed the deceptive voice of those leaders, and strayed from the fold, or when your lambs were led by them captives to the slaughter, ought you not to have warned them in time, or to have brought them head to the fold own at the rich brought them back to the fold even at the risk of your life?

But now that the rebellion has been raging But now that the rebellion has been raging for two years, I beg you to pause and see the awful whirlpool into which our people are drifting. Behold the shattered limbs and mangled bodies of those young men whom you have urged to the battle-field. Look over our desolate and mourning country. Our country is wasted, and more than half of all our boys who entered the old regiments have died in camps, or are in their bloody graves. Call to mind vividly the recent battles of Call to mind vividly the recent battles of Fredericksburg, Port Gibson, Baker's Creek, Raymond, Jackson, Big Black Bridge, Haynes' Bluff, and Vicksburg. Count if you can the thousands of our young men who have been slaughtered in these battles. Then ask yourself honestly, have I caused any of this? Did I use my holy influence to lead my flock to these fields of blood and slaughter? Nay! deal honestly before God, and confess that there is no hope for the success of the rebellion. Confess that the rebels have lost more than contess that the receis have lost more than half the territory they once held—that their resources are nearly exhausted—that they are cut off from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi, and that they are blockaded on all sides and hemmed in—that both armies will occupy and devastate the South till we are all reduced to poverty and starvation—that the reduced to poverty and starvation—that the war will certainly wear slavery out if con-tinued, and slaughter all our friends. Have thued, and slaughter all our friends. Have the moral courage, the Christian bravery, to raise your voice for peace—to stop this unnatural and cruel war. Set your heart right in the sight of God, and ask our prodigal sons to return to the house of their father. Tell them to quit and come home before they are all killed. Tell them that we will avoice them, and charge all the blame of excuse them, and charge all the blame of this war upon the guilty leaders who got up the rebellion. Tell them that we know they were deceived, misled, and forced into the war. Had not the cunning and base leaders used so many arts to persuade, mislead, deceive, intimidate, and force them; had they ceive, intimidate, and force them; had they been left to their own reflections and feelings, they never would have raised arms against our Government, which had blessed them all their lives. We know that a large majority of them went into the rebellion against their will, and that the rest were deceived and led into it by falsehood. Then, in view of the now certainty that the rebellion is a failure, and if continued it can do no more than destroy every interest in the South, and slaughter our friends, let every man, woman, and child earnestly call upon our boys to quit the war and come home. Tell them to come home and live again under the Constitution of the United States, which has ever blessed them, and will bless our people in all ages to come.
